Commitment

We tailor our program to meet your demands, whether it be the executive-style officer for your high-profile account or our police-style uniform to deter crime from your property. Our top priority is selecting the right officer to ensure we meet your requirements and profile with a complete background check, including verification and testing of:

- Criminal History
- Employment History
- Drug Screen, Both Pre-Employment and Random
- High School Diploma or GED
- Personality Profile

Trained Personnel

Our officers are thoroughly trained and supervised with managerial support on a daily basis. We have instituted the following training and testing programs to ensure our staff continuously improves:

- Officer Orientation
- Basic Officer
- Site-Specific
- Post Orders
- E-learning

Public Relations

Our officers are trained in public relations and must adhere to strict appearance standards. Additionally, communication is the key to any relationship in order to succeed.

Our management team meets with our clients on a regular basis to ensure expectations are being fulfilled. Our supervisory team makes unannounced visits to the account locations to inspect officers and make sure they are following guidelines set forth by our clientele.

United Protective believes that we provide more supervisory personnel per man-hour than any company in our industry. Our supervisors and managers are equipped with instant communication through e-mail, text and phone.

Our Edge is Your Security

United Protective Services is a Texas-based provider of security services unique from traditional security companies. Our edge is offering tailored solutions to your specific requirements by having the ability to implement and adapt quickly without the red tape customers so often experience with national providers. Our management thrives on responsiveness and attentiveness, to exceed your expectations when it comes to your security.

Your Partner

Our firm exists to provide the best possible contract security services for our clientele. We are committed to customizing our service with open and honest communication through the development of trust and respect for our clients, employees, and our co-workers.

We will strive for improvement in our relationship's productiveness, responsiveness, integrity and professionalism. We will distinguish ourselves, our firm from others by not over-promising, but through over-delivery of our service. These objectives will be achieved by constantly challenging our personal and professional growth, and by seeking new knowledge while remaining on the leading edge of our industry. We will change and continually renew our commitment to be the best contract security services company.
